

Decent education for children from Ukraine

Open letter to printing houses, as well as charities and individuals who want to participate in helping Ukrainian children

My name is Oleksii Andrusych. I am the general director of the Ukrainian publishing house Svitych.

We publish textbooks and workbooks for schoolchildren under the New Ukrainian School (NUS) program. NUS is a reform of education in Ukraine, which has been carried out since 2018 with the support of EU countries.

Our materials for students and teachers are presented on the site svitdovkola.org

As a result of the Russian invasion of Ukraine, many Ukrainian children were evacuated to Poland and other European countries. These children need to continue their education in their native language. Ukrainian teachers conduct online lessons for them. But students, especially in primary school, are in dire need of printed materials – colorful textbooks in which you can perform educational tasks.

Our publishing house is located in Kyiv, and printing activity has stopped today. But our entire team is ready to continue working for the next generation – to create training materials that promote the democratic values that underpin European society.

We are currently looking for a printing house in Europe that would print our products from ready-made PDF files.

We will be happy to involve charitable organizations and individuals to take care about the problems of Ukrainian children who have been left without the usual education. We are grateful to all Europeans for their humanitarian assistance to Ukraine and assistance in accommodating refugees. And we will greatly appreciate your assistance to Ukrainian children in funding textbooks printing for students.

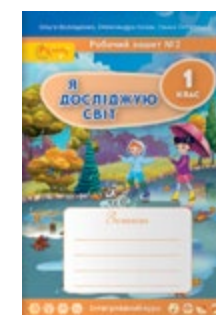

You may also be able to help distribute these textbooks to middle-aged Ukrainian children.
